

Market position of the RVM Group further strengthened

- Consolidated companies consisting of Adolph Jahn GmbH & Co. KG, Ed. Sengstack & Sohn GmbH & Co. KG, Hans L. Grauerholz GmbH and Erich Schulz GmbH become part of the new industrial insurance segment in the MLP Group
- Continuity secured for clients – as the established business model, brand and contacts of all companies are to be maintained
- Further acquisitions planned as part of the growth strategy

Eningen/Hamburg, May 19, 2021 – The consolidated companies Adolph Jahn GmbH & Co. KG, Ed. Sengstack & Sohn GmbH & Co. KG, Hans L. Grauerholz GmbH and Erich Schulz GmbH are now part of the new industrial insurance segment in the MLP Group, which is represented by the RVM Group. This is another step towards strategic development of the market for commercial and industrial insurance in the north of Germany and, with the merger, offers a presence in the traditional brokerage city of Hamburg. All of the companies in the group have a great deal of expertise in the field of transport insurance and, with a total of 15 employees, generate annual sales of approximately EUR 2 million.

Continuity for existing customers is ensured: The companies of the group, which have been established for more than 100 years, as well as the brands will be retained, along with the previous contact persons. "As part of the RVM Group, we intend to further develop our business in a targeted manner that our customers worldwide can benefit from the interaction of the group. As such, we will remain the tried and tested partner for our clients," comments Dieter Hamester, CEO of the consolidated companies. "We are delighted that these partners with all their expertise are now part of our activities and will further strengthen our mid-sized identity. Thanks to the merger, we now also have a visible presence in the north of Germany," comments Michael Friebe, CEO at RVM. Further acquisitions of industrial insurance brokers are also planned for the coming months and years.
